Circle and label the four primary divisions of content on the page below. The div names include: header, navigation, content, footer.
For bonus points, identify the following divs as well: ctsslogo, csulogo.

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window titled "Services - Computer Training and Support Services - Colorado State University". The address bar shows a file path: "file:///C:/Documents%20and%20Settings/Craig/My%20Documents/CSU/ACCESS/CTSS%20DW%20Workshops/New%20for%20PDI/DW8_Practice/services.html".

The page content includes:

- A "Skip to main content" link at the top left.
- The CTSS logo (Computer Training & Support Services, A DIVISION OF ACNS) on the left.
- The Colorado State University logo on the right.
- A vertical navigation menu on the left with links: Home, Services (highlighted with a mouse cursor), Staff, Training, and FAQ.
- A main content area titled "Services" with the following text:
 - "The CTSS Computer Lab offers a variety of computing and consulting services to faculty, staff and students."
 - "The majority of the services provided by CTSS are free, but some services such as color plotting or DVD burning have minimal charges or require you to provide the necessary supplies."
 - "Some of the more popular services provided by CTSS are consulting services on software, hardware, email accounts, modem pool accounts, eID information, color plotting, scanning services, and CD/DVD burning."
 - "For more information contact the Consultant Help Desk at 970-491-7276 or stop by our lab, 224 Weber Building."
- A footer with links: Contact CSU | Disclaimer | Equal Opportunity | Privacy Statement
